

Janet Charlton's HOLLYWOOD

JOSIE COTTON TO JOHN WATERS: JOHNNY ARE YOU QUEER?

Josie Cotton, who sang the beloved 80's anthem "Johnny, Are You Queer?" has been out of the limelight for awhile, but now she's back with a new CD "Invasion Of The B-Girls." (It's a collection of songs from her favorite B movies like "Beyond The Valley of the Dolls") Since director John Waters included "Johnny, Are You Queer?" on HIS album "A Date With John Waters," Josie asked him if he'd appear in her new video. To everyone's surprise, Waters not only said NO, but he implied that Josie copied an idea of HIS. Is he getting grumpy in his advancing years? Josie didn't take it personally - she still admires Waters and will forge ahead without him.