

Our Friday best: The Eagles descend, and so do Mavericks, Idles and Isles

By Star Tribune staff | SEPTEMBER 30, 2021 — 8:00AM

CHRIS PIZZELLO, INVISION/AP FILE

Don Henley and Vince Gill performing at MusiCares Person of the Year honoring Dolly Parton in Los Angeles in 2019.

Josie Cotton

Sure to attract curiosity from New Wave fans and deep-bin record collectors, this colorful Dallas native was a peer of the Go-Go's in the early 1980s L.A. scene whose 1982 hit "Johnny, Are You Queer?" made the "Valley Girl" soundtrack and became a cult classic. She sounds like she's having a blast on her new electro-poppy album, "Pussycat Babylon." (7 p.m. Thu. Oct. 7, the Hook & Ladder outdoors, 3010 Minnehaha Av. S., Mpls., $18-$23, thehookmpls.com, vaccine/test results required.)

C.R.